Our Franciscan Education

at the Catholic High School of Baltimore is, we claim, SUPERB!

Why so? Because our Franciscan educators have led us along three paths: We have been drawn to a deeper, clearer, more reverent knowledge of the One True God and His Spouse, the One True Church. We have been awakened maturely to our own meaning—to our true destiny.

We have been developed intellectually at TCHS, according to our goals and according to our abilities. And always we have basked in the reflections of vital, humane, wonderfully cultured minds of our Franciscan faculty—lay and religious.

We have had, moreover, thrown open to us various media for physical, social, and cultural development that our dynamic faculty could provide so well for individual and social needs.

Yes, education at TCHS has been second to none—it is INCOMPARABLE! In proof thereof, we offer you this book, the record of our education at TCHS.

His Holiness Pope John xxiii

His Holiness
POPE JOHN XXIII
Vicar of Christ on Earth

Surely we graduates have had privileges in living through the reign of the Saintly Pope Pius XII. Now, in our last year of spiritual and intellectual growth at TCHS, and about to step into a new, adult world, we think it significant that the Church, too, is embarking on new paths.

How well we recall the world's joy as radio and television cried, "We have a Pope!" His Holiness, Pope John XXIII, has proved to be a man of God—holy, intelligent, delightfully humorous.

Someone has likened the present Holy Father to Saint Francis. We like the comparison, for the spirit of the Poverello—the spirit of Christian joy and loving devotion—fills the halls of this Franciscan school. We can think of no more harmonious and healing spirit for today's fear-ridden generation than Pope John's God-founded serenity in the face of tremendous responsibilities.

Your Holiness, at the beginning of your Pontificate, we ask you to accept the deep veneration, sincere prayers, and filial good wishes of the faculty and student body of The Catholic High School of Baltimore.

The Most Reverend
FRANCIS PATRICK KEOUGH, D.D.
Archbishop of Baltimore

Silver Jubilee! Does not that thought summon up the image of long and sterling achievement? Certainly this is the case with our beloved Archbishop, Francis Patrick Keough, D.D., who celebrated the Silver Anniversary of his consecration to the Episcopacy on May 21.

After twenty-five years as a spiritual shepherd, His Excellency is acclaimed with the solemn splendor of the Church rejoicing.

Joining the wide circle of admirers and well-wishers, the faculty and students of Catholic High extend sincere and prayerful good wishes to our spiritual shepherd, Archbishop Francis Patrick Keough.

SISTER MARY LUCETTA, O.S.F.
Principal

Sister Mary Lucetta completes her fourth year as principal of The Catholic High School, a position she has fulfilled with unending devotion and service. In addition to her administrative responsibilities, Sister also teaches Latin I and II.

SISTER MARY CONSTANTINE, O.S.F.
Superior

Sister Mary Constantine is superior of the Glen Riddle Franciscan Sisters who constitute with five lay teachers our faculty. Sister also teaches biology to the sophomores. Sister's interest in our Alma Mater is manifested daily by a continuing program for school betterment.

The Reverend Sylvan Rausch, guest speaker at the annual Father-Daughter Communion Breakfast, February 15, vehemently pushes a point for Mr. Haak.

It was just such a bright September day as this you now enjoy poring over the 1959 Troubadour that, twenty years ago, the doors of The Catholic High School were first flung open for an academic year. Yes, twenty years ago a Franciscan ideal for the betterment of the Catholic youth of the Archdiocese of Baltimore had become a reality!

In September, 1939, 268 happy, perhaps shy, certainly curious freshmen enrolled for their secondary education from the Glen Riddle Franciscan Sisters. From the seventeen graduation classes in TCHS history, we can count 3864 young women who have carried, like a bright candle, the values of Christian culture and the guiding principles of their Holy Faith into their homes, their professions, and their country. How far that little candle throws its beams . . . Who will attempt to evaluate the luminous Christian worlds TCHS graduates have created? . . . or follow the prismatic reflections of their influence, shattering as the sun, the mist, the foggy paths of disturbed fellowmen? When Mother Mary Generosa, with the original eleven faculty members, greeted those first TCHS students, did she feel that the responsibility and sacrifice she had imposed upon herself and her Order were justified? To erect and staff a school enrolling yearly approximately 1200, was not that an ambitious undertaking? . . . a continuing responsibility? We know that under God the responsibility was met successfully, even eminently, for the reputation of our graduates in business and educational worlds of Baltimore stands for achievement, integrity, and tremendous esprit de corps. In the finest traditions of Franciscan thought, our education has been arranged. With characteristic Franciscan realism, the best of modern educational theories and techniques have been employed. With wonderful Franciscan humanism, the program of studies and extra-curricular activities has been adapted to individual talents and needs. And with St. Francis' great grasp on things eternal, the spiritual growth of each student has been the white light that probed every step in the evolution of our school. True, TCHS has changed since 1939. Only three (Sisters M. Lucetta, Imelda, and Arnoldine) of the original faculty are left. The faculty has, moreover, more than tripled itself. New courses and subjects, extended improvements and additions in all departments prove that growth at this wonderful Alma Mater is organic and dynamic. But the hub, so to speak, of the school is the Chapel erected in 1953. There, every morning and during the day, faculty and students meet in mutual harmony at the Savior's feet. There, in the Eucharistic Presence, is the source of Catholic High's being and fruitfulness. Now, in September, 1959, we record the accomplishment of another step in TCHS growth. An addition to the main building will give added accommodations to the drama and music departments and will provide offices for other needs. Truly, our Alma Mater grows!

In projects sponsored by the Albertus Magnus Club, Geraldine Sobotka's entry, "Effects of Nervousness on the Efficacy of Sodium Evipal" rated a first in the local range and commendation from the Future Scientists of America Organization. Biology classes also contributed projects of contemporary interest. In an April assembly Mary Harris as Leeuwenhoek, Father of Microscopy, related the history of the microscope. Carmella Melfa, Carole McKewin, and Diana Rossbach spoke on space flight. Both Math and Albertus Magnus Club members coupled interests on May 19 to visit Friendship Airport to observe methods employed there for making weather observations.

Most things that go into making a yearbook can only be suggested. In September, the business editors arrange schedules for senior portraits, ready important senior profiles. The editor-in-chief is, meanwhile, striving for new ideas, interesting arrangements, watching schedules, compiling data on classes, activities, sports. Soon the patron program is being sent to the press, pictures are coming through, copy is written, killed, and re-written. In brief, the entire staff moves along in an exciting mental whirl which never abates because they must keep their fingers continuously on the pulse of the school. If the average student were to come into the Yearbook Office (Room 203) during its sessions, she might be perplexed indeed by the official jargon that clutters the air: words like "bleed," "kill," "gutter," "crop" don't really predict murder—only the staff's determined efforts to produce a fresh and unique book.

A naive freshman asked: "Is that what you do all the time—write?" Hardly, the Troubadour staff replies, or there would never be a yearbook. But writing good copy is mighty important, the same staff knows.

What are the staff's activities? A thousand things. For instance, early in the fall, the new staff is completed, officers take over, plans for the next edition begin to emerge. Soon, TCHS journalists hegira to Villanova University Press Conference where they exchange ideas and socalize with a thousand other scribes from Eastern schools. In October, the staff also attends the Columbia Scholastic Press Conference, New York, where it picks up knowledge and enlarges its horizons. Cooperation within the staff and with the adviser gives TCHS its prize winning yearbook: MEDALIST from Columbia and ALL-CATHOLIC from the Catholic School Press.

Caught in the act. The Highway Business Staff doesn't waste a moment preparing the last edition for mailing and distribution to the homerooms. One of the interesting activities of the newspaper staff was their trip with advisers to the Columbia Press Conference, March 12, 13, and 14.

In training, junior journalists pose merrily in a complimentary setting. Daily, during the first period, and also after school, these aspiring reporters intently study the fundamentals of newspaper editing in Room 102. Next year junior members will wholly publish The Highway with the aid of Sister Claretta.

Proving that writers are happy and hep, sophomore journalists smile knowingly at the camera. Besides the journalism class held three times weekly, additional meetings at least once a week in Room 102 are conducted by Sister Claretta, who teaches skills in newspaper writing. These beginners will be promoted to assistants to the senior staff in the coming year.

Red Cross representatives could report a 100 per cent TCHS enrollment in the JRC. In the spring, combining with the talents of the Orchestra, senior JRC officers and reps presented a program at the Keswick Home for Incurables. Sister M. deSales, moderator, also reported that a large number of gift boxes had been sent overseas and baskets of candy for patients at St. Joseph Hospital had been rewarding projects.

Runner-up for the office of Baltimore CYO Vice-Presidency, Dorothy Wachter receives commendation from the moderator, Reverend Clare O'Dwyer. Fellow classmates from TCHS rallied to her support at the National Catholic Youth Convention at Mount St. Joseph's on October 12.

Chairman Carolyn Squires announces, as senior members of the League pose following a vocation skit produced on March 19.

"The world for the Sacred Heart; the Sacred Heart for the world." In 1959, as in other years, the CSMC put life into this motto, trying by sacrifice to extend Christ's reign. We were well represented at the local conference at TCHS on November 4 and at Seton on April 14. In between were sandwiched other activities. The Little Sisters of the Poor, at Thanksgiving, were grateful for our canned goods collection. Educational books helped needy Asian students. A Catechism Drive and Bandage Project also spread TCHS charity. On Palm Sunday we gathered at the Cathedral to give witness to our living Catholic spirit. On the trip to Washington, May 7, we had fun and renewed inspiration during visits to the Franciscan Monastery, the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, the Catholic University, and other points of interest.

We glow. Like a burning flame we of TCHS glow . . . with pride in the achievements of our classmates and Alma Mater . . . with pleasure in the activities arranged to expand our interests and increase grace and maturity. As incoming freshmen learn TCHS pathways, they kindle the lamp of their hopes and dreams at tradition's strong flame. Sharing mutual enthusiasms in common objectives, even the youngest of the student body soon become illumined by the soaring flame that is the Catholic High School spirit. Let your light shine! our Alma Mater cries to us. Light your desires at your Alma Mater's burning ideals we seniors cry to every future TCHS student. Partial observers claim that radiance characterized the 1958-59 social season. The Mistletoe Hop officially opened the TCHS social calendar. At the Alcazar, some 300 upperclassmen and dates sparkled gorgeously despite the ebbing Yule-tide interval. Soon the freshmen stepped into the gay whirl in the Freshman Frolic, shimmering almost as brightly as the sophs at their glittering mid-winter Hop. Juniors also swirled through an evening of enchantment, providing something slightly more charming than the sophs, slightly less captivating than the . . . ah, the seniors! The sparkle of youth, the dignity of age, the goodness of beauty, the beauty of goodness—Poets, does this paint something of our Senior Prom? Stardust, they say, fell on gay couples during that most talked-of, planned-for, fitted-for, dreamed-about Evening of the Year. Fun, comradeship, and gratitude were the motif of the Junior-Senior Day in May. Gales of laughter rose in gusty billows toward the rafters when juniors performed . . . We'll let you find the clever juniors on these pages—full of pranks and wit, they were! Around the World in 180 Minutes they called their entertainment. What a smorgasboard of madcap fun they provided! Intellectually we glow! All honors our Alma Mater receives fall on each and all of us like a bright mantle, like a shining accolade. In her excellence, we glow. Her honors are ours, for is she not our Alma Mater? our great mother? In the spring, the Orchestra merited an Excellent-Plus rating at the Catholic University Festival. Both Glee Club and A Cappella Choir performed superbly at St. Peter's High School, Delaware. Forensic speakers captured sweepstake trophies from Loyola College and American University, respectively. Artists won awards in civics contests. Journalists were acclaimed with Medalists, First Place and All-Catholic ratings. And, to clinch it all, scholarships to local colleges closed the school year successfully. We glowed physically, too, in the varied program established by the Athletics Department. AA rooters boast that for the third consecutive year, Varsity basketball finished with an undefeated season. Yes, at TCHS we glow. In the following pages and elsewhere you will catch a glimpse of the delightful activities that provide that glow.

Before the stirring scenes pictured here, moments of even greater excitement preceded them. There were costumes to fit, evening rehearsals to attend, and dramatic skill to acquire. On opening night, November 14, scores of Catholic High girls poured into the gym (our private dressing room) to emerge as sweet, diminutive maidens, competent policemen, or fierce pirates. An exhilarating confusion reigned as make-up was applied (courtesy of the Drama Guild) and bits of costumes were lost, found, and lost again. Of course there even were tales of "butterflies" racing madly through the charged air. But finally the moment came. We were on stage . . . the curtain was rising . . . a hasty prayer for success . . . and . . . and . . . Well, just look about and here we are again immortalized in print.

NOEL! NOEL!

A quiet special place where gentle peace and kindly feelings prevail—is that not something of what the Advent season creates? All seems good, kind, and beautiful—and we desire to keep it so. During the weeks preceding Christmas, that atmosphere was so evident. The message of the Saviour's love for mankind, His forgiveness, and His sacrifice—all were retold anew for us here in class and through various extra-curricular organizations. The Sodality reminded us of poor infants, the CSMC of the missionary in lonely mission fields, and the Glee Club and Orchestra combined to tell again the Saviour's glory. Still, in that last week before vacation began, all was flurry too, a happy kind of excitement. The Mistletoe Hop was nearer—last-minute gifts had to be bought, and in every homeroom an atmosphere of joyful, friendly anticipation made the school year 1958 come to a wonderful close.

The Song of Bernadette

In keeping with Franciscan devotion to God's Mother, and as a fitting close to the Lourdes' year, the Drama Guild presented the SONG OF BERNADETTE, with Angela de Fontes in the lead. The talents of the Art Department added notably to the beauty of the stage settings and backdrops painted by its members. Activities of the Guild included a tribute to St. Francis, in October, an over-night trip to New York, and a play festival in May of one-act plays directed and performed by underclassmen. The presentation of the Lourdes' story with the role of the humble Bernadette re-affirming the need for prayer, penance, and devotion to the Immaculate Heart of Mary brought home to the student body, their parents and friends, Our Lady's wishes in regard to the rosary.

Police authorities harangue Dr. Dozous.

Youth and action, natural twins, keep up their lively pace at the big red schoolhouse on the Highway. From early morning, even at times 'til late evening, Monday often through Sunday, The Catholic High School hums with girls-on-the go! As early as 7:20 A. M., you will find eager-beavers from distant Glen Burnie, Catonsville, or Essex pouring out of Daddy's car. Miss Catholic High has arrived, anticipated only by Mr. Henry and Mr. George, faithful custodians. What to do until the first bell? Important business is at hand. First, a visit to Chapel is a tradition freely accepted by the students of the Eucharistic-minded Franciscan faculty. Then . . . on to one's homeroom for early study . . . or to the gym for careful baskets . . . or off to music rooms for brisk practice. Into the biology lab some curious sophs may wander to stir up a morning's broth for the guppies. By now, a few mark-conscious juniors may be a;sldkfj-ing in 109; and an earnest trig student in 207 may be solemnly charting the shadow cast by the Chrysler Building. As the building fills up, certain feminine expressions float up the stairway. "I simply said," "I'm all dated up," or "He's SO cute," they airily confide. Outside 209, a bespectacled freshie keeps prodding, "You mean she really is a hard marker?" Meanwhile, Library Aides conduct a hurried trade especially if there are rumors from Room 203. Student officers report to Sister Lucetta, organizations officers consult the moderators and . . . What? Only

8:20? Already the school hums as if it were noon. Activity Period at 8:45 creates a new sound — a quiet steady drone, conclusive proof that 1100 teen-agers face a typical school day. Eight periods of 45-minutes each follow. Bells ring, classes change . . . Keep to the right, please . . . lunch intervenes. I'm positively starved . . . Two periods after second lunch conclude the . . . Don't clap erasers against the building, please . . . Yellow buses chug up before the main entrance . . . 2:50 P. M. School out? Hardly that! Now the busy whirl of activities create their own particular hum. Almost anywhere in the building—even on the campus for sports—some organization is in session, Monday through Friday. On Monday, it may be the Sodality. U.N., Debating, or Math Club that meet . . . Tuesday, there may be the Orchestra ensemble, Journalism Club, A Cappella Choir . . . Wednesday, Dramatics, LD, Art Club . . . Thursday, CSMC, Apostles League, Science Clubs . . . Friday, basketball, senior play, art, voice, piano lessons — something for everybody, daily, weekly, bi-weekly, monthly—never an idle or dull moment at TCHS. Even Saturdays are busy for various departments—art, music, sports . . . Is there a Ladies Retreat on Sunday? Then faculty and Retreat Squad are there . . . A Mothers Club meeting? a Communion Breakfast? an Alumnae Reunion? a Sodality Convention? a Musicale? a Senior Play? Still the big building hums with vibrant TCHS life that is mental — physical — social — spiritual — that is Catholic High!

Softball Varsity. The best part of the softball season occurred on the TCHS campus during the intramural games between sophomores and freshmen when the frosh twice proved their claim to the softball title. Since there are few organized softball teams in Baltimore, few extra-campus games were available.

Yuletide gaiety. Judy McGinnity, Anne Fox, and Joann Bower see what the mirror says at the fifth annual Mistletoe Hop, December 27, at the Alcazar.

Lois Brunek, Rita Cala, and dates greet chaperons.

Carl Hamilton provided the music; the Alcazar, its main ballroom; and upperclassmen the glamour.

On the balcony. Is that Joan Kiefner, there?

Lee Gallagher, Frances Blubaugh, Betty Manning, Geraldine Janowski and dates certainly look cool.

Chairman of the event was Mrs. Albert Day; co-chairman, Mrs. John Mooney.

Our BACCALAUREATE Sunday,

May 31, 1959

Sunday morning, May 31, 1959—Baccalaureate Day! Just before 9 o'clock we moved, clad in our flowing gowns, into the auditorium. Parents and friends turned, eager-eyed, yet hushed. The Right Reverend Monsignor Leo J. McCormick, Ph.D., celebrated Holy Mass, and the hours of practice which had preceded were rewarded, we are told, by our beautiful and fervent tones.

The traditional Baccalaureate Breakfast was expertly catered and thoroughly enjoyed, while the Orchestra provided appropriate musical background.

Pictures were snapped, congratulations flowed, and then—too soon—it was over!

Graduates receive Holy Communion as Sister de-Sales plays softly on the organ.

"At your service" seems to be the motto of the caterers during the Baccalaureate Breakfast.

Senior Officers breakfast with Father McCall and Monsignor McCormick.

Graduates of the 1959 Class were shocked to learn that just before graduation one of the finest members of their Class had, very quickly, gone to God on Sunday, May 10. Mary Skalinski was a devout Child of Mary and a true daughter of TCHS—an inspiration to us both in her life and in her death. May she rest in peace!

Glow of Our Lady–

MAY PROCESSION.

The annual school-wide May Procession was the last activity—May 28—sponsored by the Sodality for the present year. The Reverend Robert Lochner of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church officiated and gave the sermon and Benediction.

Other events of the Sodality year were the assembly October 29, for Catholic Youth Week during which Sodalists strove to promote daily Mass and Holy Communion at TCHS. During a religious assembly, December 9, aspirants to the more limited Sodality of the Immaculate Conception were received. Sodalists also report that the Advent Layette Drive was the most successful in its history. Also in Advent, Sodalists joined the world-wide movement to arrange a Spiritual Bouquet for the new Holy Father. February called for the collection of Catholic magazines for distribution to hospitals and nursing homes, also an assembly to close the Lourdes Centennial year on February 10. On February 22, TCHS Sodalists played hostess to the annual high school Sodality Union Convention. In August, Sodalists and their moderator, Sister M. Margaret Dolores, attend the Summer School of Catholic Action at Fordham University, New York.

Sodality Prefect Mary Lou Wynne is crowned May Queen by Father Lochner during the annual May Procession.

Father Lochner leads the student body in the Act of Consecration.

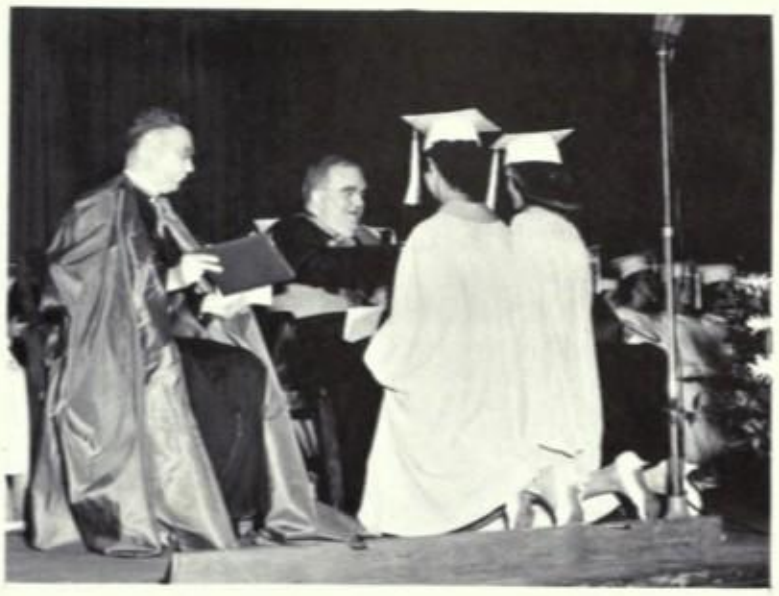
Father McGrain announces graduates.



Bishop Sebastian awards diplomas.

From GRADUATION we go forth,

Graduates with a perfect attendance record acknowledge applause.

The largest graduating class in TCHS history, 298 young women, receive their diplomas before admiring relatives and friends.

Grateful for our wonderful

ALMA MATER!

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

★ The 1959 Troubadour Staff, having written so many words, yet seeks another word as a medium for its sense of indebtedness and gratitude toward all who helped complete this project. There are, of course, our incomparable faculty with their encouragement, patience, cooperation. There are our relatives and friends both business and social who enabled us to complete so successfully our patron drive. There are Mr. Segall of the Segall-Majestic Studios and the ever alert Mr. Kocher who made us beautiful in portraiture, vital in action. There are the splendid technical advice and friendly encouragement of Mr. John Ursprung, Jr., of the Wm. T. Cooke Publishing Company. There are . . . oh, there are hundreds of things that you all did to make this book a reality. Now here it is. We hope you like it.
